<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Do workers have different sick time-related rights based on the size of their employer? If so, based on what employer-size threshold(s)?</td>
<td>Yes. Workers in businesses with 24 or fewer workers can earn up to 24 hours of paid sick time per year. Workers in businesses with 25-99 workers (and workers in a restaurant or bar with 1-99 workers who regularly receive tips to supplement a base wage below the minimum wage) can earn up to 40 hours of paid sick time per year. Workers in businesses with 100 or more workers can earn up to 56 hours of paid sick time per year.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amount of paid sick time that can be earned under the law per year? (Note: All of these paid sick time laws make it clear that these laws establish a minimum requirement, and employers can provide greater or more generous paid sick time benefits to their workers.)</td>
<td>Workers in businesses with 24 or fewer workers: up to 24 hours a year. Workers in businesses with 25-99 workers (and workers in a restaurant or bar with 1-99 workers who regularly receive tips to supplement a base wage below the minimum wage): up to 40 hours a year. Workers in businesses with 100 or more workers: up to 56 hours a year. The number of workers is determined by the average monthly number of full-time equivalents in the prior year.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When do workers begin to earn paid sick time?</td>
<td>At the commencement of employment, but workers aren’t entitled to use paid sick time until after 90 days of employment.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Does unused sick time carry forward to the subsequent year?</td>
<td>Per regulations, workers can carry forward unused paid sick time, but employers aren’t required to allow use of more than: 56 hours of paid sick time a year (for businesses with 100 or more workers); 40 hours of paid sick time a year (for businesses with at least 25 and fewer than 100 workers—this presumably will also be the rule for tipped workers in a restaurant or bar with 1-99 workers); or 24 hours of paid sick time a year (for business with fewer than 25 workers).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Private Right of Action to go to Court?</td>
<td>Yes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Are there waivers/ exemptions for workers covered by a valid Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA)?</td>
<td>The law’s paid sick time requirements won’t apply to workers in the building/construction industry covered by a CBA that expressly waives the requirements in clear and unambiguous terms. Otherwise, the law’s paid sick time requirements can’t be waived in the written terms of a CBA for less than 3 paid leave days.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>What Agency or Official Enforces the Law?</td>
<td>Washington D.C. Department of Employment Services</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For the statewide paid sick time laws: can cities in the state pass paid sick time laws that are broader than the state law?</td>
<td>N/A</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Statutory Citation(s)</td>
<td>D.C. Code § 32-131.01 et seq.</td>
